PIERCING AFTERCARE

There are many factors that play into a well healed healthy piercing. The aftercare for most piercings is pretty basic, and by referring to the instructions listed below, you should have a pretty straight forward and relatively quick healing with zero issues.

1. Dial anti-bacterial soap (hand washing).
2. Simply Saline, Wound Wash or Steri-Wash.
3. Cotton swabs or gauze.

BASIC PROCEDURE:

1. Wash your hands thoroughly with Dial antibacterial soap.
2. Apply simple saline or wound wash to clean swab or gauze. Thoroughly clean around the piercing site to remove any crust or debris.
3. Repeat this procedure 2-3 times daily until the piercing is healed.
4. Jewelry should be checked daily to avoid loss of beads/threaded ends, and should never be removed before the piercing is fully healed.

WHAT NOT TO DO:

1. NEVER touch piercing unless you are cleaning it with sanitized hands!
2. NEVER try to home remedy anything that has not been instructed to you by your piercer. Alcohol, Peroxide, Bacitracin, etcetera have no place in healing a piercing and will usually make things worse.
3. NEVER attempt to remove or replace your jewelry by yourself. The jewelry you have been pierced with is high quality and designed specifically to promote a quick healthy heal. Replacing with cheap substandard jewelry can cause allergic reaction and some cases infections.
